Thursday, October 21

7-9 p.m.

Joe C. Thompson Conference Center, Rm 1.110

Dr. Nel Noddings, noted author and educator, will be the keynote speaker at this important informational forum, which is open to parents, teachers, business leaders, funding and youth service agencies, pre-service teacher candidates, teacher education faculty, and the media.

In communities across the United States, these meetings are being held to foster public dialogue about the No Child Left Behind Act and its impact on how our nation’s children are educated, as well as the many non-educational factors that affect public schools and children’s ability to succeed.

Attendees will learn about "No Child Left Behind" and the law’s implications for schools, teachers, parents and children. Discussions will include:

- How children are educated
- Children’s ability to succeed
- High-stakes testing
- Highly qualified teachers
- School funding and accountability
- Parental involvement

The “No Child Left Behind” Town Hall meeting is hosted by The University of Texas at Austin College of Education.
