HEALTH SCIENCES SPECIALIZATION (17 hours):

Description:
This specialization benefits students interested in going into the medical field. Students in this specialization will take the required prerequisites for medical school, physician’s assistant programs and dental schools. At the end of the program, students will have most of the required coursework needed to apply to the allied health professions mentioned above.

Courses:
BIO 206L: Laboratory Experiments in Biology – Structure & Function of Organisms
BIO 311D: Introductory Biology II
BIO 325: Genetics
CH 320M: Organic Chemistry I
BCH 369: Fundamentals of Biochemistry
3 hours of approved Statistics

Contact:
College of Education Student Division
Kinesiology and Health Education Advising Office
Bellmont 1005
512-475-6146